

A Mrs. Hall.

Q And you went to the Clark house and then you went to the Mills house?

A Yes; just you might say a step.

MR. STUDER: That couldn't have been the same year.

Q You mean the previous Christmas to this murder?

A Yes.

MR. STUDER : Christmas, 1921?

MR. STEVENS: Yes, sir; of course I didn't mean 1922.

A I remember they were some little china thing or something like that; I don't remember.

Q Did you see Mrs. Mills when you took it to the Mills house?

A I have an idea I did.

Q Do you remember anything she said?

A No.

Q That is the only time you remember going to the Mills house?

A Yes, sir.

Q Now, did you know Jim Mills?

A Just maybe "How do you do?" I don't think even that.

Q And you had never heard any gossip or anything else about Mr. Hall's relation to Mrs. Mills?
